THREE GUESSES TOM MIX INJURED WHEN HORSE FALLS

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 22.—(UP)—Tom Mix, cowboy motion picture actor, was confined to his home today with a double rib fracture and other injuries, suffered when his horse fell on him during rehearsal of a fight scene. He was expected to resume work within 10 days.

Mix and his company were filming a western picture near Lone Pine, in Owens valley. Tony, the horse which has carried him through many escapades before the camera during the past ten years, refused to jump at a high fence, and turning sharply, threw his rider.

Tom fell on Mix, inflicting painful injuries to his leg. Although he was knocked unconscious on the fall, Mix suffered no serious injuries, physicians said.

TOKIO UNCONCERNED OVER MYSTERY SHIP

TOKIO, Oct. 22.—(UP)—Reports from San Pedro, Calif., that a mystery ship, disguised as an oil tanker, has been spying on maneuvers of the American fleet were regarded without concern here today.

Stories of such a ship have been current several years, it was said. Japanese navy men have always scoffed at the report.

NEW GOLD RUSH
JOHANNESBURG, Oct. 22.—(UP)—A new gold rush in the famous South African fields was developing today after geologists announced discovery of 30 additional miles of the famous main reef running from Rand Fontein to the Moer river. Options were being obtained on farms throughout the district. Potential ore serves in the new area were estimated at 278,000,000 tons.

NUNS ARRESTED
GUADALAJARA, Mex., Oct. 22.—(UP)—Seventeen nuns were arrested today in police raid on what officials described as a convent, prohibited by the state religious laws. A quantity of religious objects were seized, the police said.

THREAT IGNORED
GENEVA, Oct. 22.—(UP)—The Japanese threat to withdraw from the League of Nations is not taken seriously here, a canvass of league leaders revealed today. The threat to quit is regarded here as a "diplomatic bluff," possibly more harmful than beneficial to the Japanese cause.

SHERIDAN, Wyo., Oct. 22.—(UP)—Trapped by the vicious onslaught of a fall blizzard, 53 hunters were snowbound somewhere in the rugged Togoo river country of the Big Horn mountains today.

Since last Sunday afternoon when the blizzard broke they have been in the hills, without shelter, and some of them possibly without food.

Weary forest rangers, fire guards and volunteers, their faces grey with exhaustion, and eyes red from facing the glare of sun on snow, tramped trails into the white wilderness, in an attempt to rescue the hunters.

MRS. RANKIN IS YOUNG INSULL STRICKEN; DIES TO RETURN TO IN HOME HERE UNITED STATES

Declares He Will Come Back Even if Authorities Decide on Arrest

LONDON, Oct. 22.—(UP)—Samuel Insull jr. will return to the United States even if Chicago authorities decide to arrest him, he told the United Press yesterday.

Mrs. Rankin was about her household duties yesterday when she was suddenly stricken ill. She called her husband who rushed home to find his wife suffering from a digestive disturbance but apparently feeling easier.

"It's all over now," said Miss Wilson, as she related how Thomas, under the name of Sherwood had wood her for months. He posed as a wealthy broker, she said, and made frequent trips north from California in airplanes and spent money lavishly.

"All I want to say is that I am very sorry for Mrs. Thomas," said the disillusioned girl.

The father of the girl was a witness when the couple obtained a marriage license at Kelso, Thursday morning. The prospective bride and Wilson drove back to the hotel.

The bride-to-be and the man she knew as Sherwood shopped together the same afternoon in Seattle. Thomas left the girl and was to meet her at a pre-wedding dinner. But he telephoned later that he would be unable to keep the appointment. He said he had to have his automobile repaired at the hotel.

But on Thursday evening he broke a dinner engagement with Miss Wilson and sent a note, which read:

"I am sorry, am on my way back to California to make amends."

The father of the girl was a witness when the couple obtained a marriage license at Kelso, Thursday morning. The prospective bride and Wilson drove back to the hotel.

Thomas, who was believed to be the man she knew as Sherwood, was to meet her at a pre-wedding dinner. But he telephoned later that he would be unable to keep the appointment. He said he had to have his automobile repaired at the hotel.

THREE KILLED IN ACCIDENT FRIDAY NIGHT

were killed, suffered a broken leg and other injuries. The car he was driving was registered to his mother, Laura Johnson. He was the son of the late Joe Johnson, Orange police officer for many years, who died last summer.

The large car which figured in the accident was registered to Rolf Von Eckartsberg and Henry Berg, of 440 Roads End, Glendale.

Coroner Abbey will hold an inquest over the three bodies at the Winbiger Funeral home here Monday at 2 p.m.

Deaths in the county from automobile accidents had soared to a new high figure today, with 75 now having been killed in crashes.

TWO OTHERS HURT IN CAR CRASHES

Two other persons were injured, but not seriously in other accidents which occurred last night.

Manuel J. Ortiz of Los Angeles, was hurt when a car driven by an unidentified driver crashed into a truck he was sitting in which was parked by the side of the road four miles south of Irvine last night about 8:30 o'clock. He was taken to the county hospital for first aid treatment but left immediately afterwards.

The unknown driver side-swiped the truck Ortiz was sitting in and crashed into another car driven by George Page of Los Angeles, who was travelling in the opposite direction.

Louis Stanton, 15, was injured, but not seriously, when she was a passenger in a car driven by Ted Espino, 18, of Long Beach, in an accident which happened east of Santiago boulevard on Chapman Avenue last night.

According to reports, the driver was going west on Chapman at a high rate of speed when he attempted to pass another car going in the same direction and lost control of the car which went into a ditch and turned over on the left side of the road.

Tells Water Stand

He outlined his proposed policies as being for water conservation, and said "every effort must be brought to bear to bring water conservation programs to a rapid conclusion" after giving alarming figures as to lowering of water levels.

"One set of tax figures is not commonly revealed," Lyon said. "Those figures concern the general fund of the county, and reveal that whereas the third district pays 40 per cent into the fund, because of high valuation, and has contributed millions over a period of the last 12 years, she has actually received back during that period in expenditures but $147,000."

If it were possible to receive back from this gas tax fund in proportion the money would wipe out our bonded indebtedness," he declared.

The inconsistencies of the forming of special districts for road building in third district, which pays 40 per cent of the tax fund, was rapped by Lyon. He said the districts overlap inconsistently, and some ranchers are paying as high as a $5 rate with three districts on one property, which other ranchers are surrounded by good roads, and are eliminated from taxation, being on verges of districts.

Hits Inn Purchase

Lyon pronounced purchase of St. Ann's inn as part of the county court house building as an instance of the inefficient management, and said no public meeting can be held there after 5 p.m. because the building is considered a fire trap.

The candidates' opinion of handling unemployed was considered also, and he said there are but two ways, to either care for them outright, or to give them constructive work to do that will count in county development.

In brief, Albert Launder, Fullerton city attorney, said on the gasoline tax, that the cities have been trying to get equitable distribution adjustment for many years, and have appeared before the supervisors at least once a year in the past six years, but have been given no consideration.

He described the source of the gas tax as being raised by the state on sale of gas and licenses. Distribution is $20,000 to each county, and a division of the balance of 50 per cent according to automobile registration to the counties. The state takes 50 per cent. This allows Orange county an average of about $350,000 per year, he said.

Specified expenditures are for roads and the county supervisors may spend any portion within the incorporated cities, and "there is no reason why it cannot be spent within cities, for the financial problems are acute now," he said.

Board Policy Attacked

The policy of Orange county board of supervisors is to place what is spent in cities on a link that connects with outside districts, Launder said, and the city must provide 75 per cent of the expense. Supervisors divide it equally among all districts except the one where Santa Ana is located, and it does not share.

He said that the inconsistency of the policy is shown when in "outside district," such as Yorba Linda, the gas tax is used to retire bonds on a road district that has no connection whatever with "outside districts" but lies at the edge of the hills, is a terminating road system.

Must Pay Own Tax

In Yorba Linda, the whole of an improvement district is being paid for out of gas tax money, while in cities, whence the tax money is derived, the property owner pays his own tax, Launder declared. "The supervisors have adopted a policy that is preposterous at Yorba Linda. There are no through roads," he stated.

LYON RAPS SUPERVISORS IN OUTLINING POLICIES AT MASS MEETING HELD IN FULLERTON

FULLERTON, Oct. 22.—The general inequality of distribution of tax monies, and inconsistencies of the board of supervisors in spending the gas tax monies, as well as other fundamental needs of county government were considered last night at a mass meeting at the old auditorium of the Fullerton Union High school, where LeRoy Lyon, candidate for supervisor of the third district, was the principal speaker.

Lyon outlined policies he is standing on in his campaign and presented some figures he considered tax payers should know in making their choice for the supervisor position.

Albert Launder outlined the "inconsistencies of the gas tax expenditures" while S. James Tuffree spoke. Each urged his supporters at the primary election to back and work for Lyon in the coming campaign.

"Mussolini Crown"

Carmichael declared that "If the incumbent (William Schumacher) is re-elected to the office of supervisor, we should put a crown on him and call him 'Mussolini,' declaring that 20 years is long enough for any man or any family to hold public office.

Carmichael nailed the tales of the candidates in the primaries, as well as Lyon at present were controlled by the Irvine interests, or by Mrs. Suzanna Bixby Bryant, and gave figures showing how unequally distributed are the funds paid by the districts in the general funds of the county.

"Forty million dollars is paid in on state gas tax. Why doesn't someone say stop building scenic highways and pay bonds and relieve the taxpayers?" he inquired.

Lyon declared that people are thoroughly tired of machine control in the third district and are ready to tax bill to pay for a change.

The executive committee for the campaign last night decided to call departmental meetings of the camaign volunteers in place of having one general luncheon report meeting of all workers the fore part of the week. The thought was that the practice which has been followed thus far in the campaign will be continued until it is definitely shown that the goal can not be reached save through some other procedure.

The meeting decided not to set any closing date for the appeal but rather to carry it along until every possible source of pledges had been covered. It was agreed that unless more and larger pledges are received than during the latter part of next week it may be necessary to hold an emergency meeting of citi-cians to decide what course is to be followed to provide food, shelter and clothing for those in distress and to conduct the essential preventive and rehabilitation activities.

the biggest little subscription of the campaign thus far. It was the 19 who herself has been out of employment and has but the barest of necessities. It was found that for weeks now she had been saving the would be able to give something to

BUSINESS GAIN PREDICTED IN C. OF C. SPEECH

ORANGE, Oct. 22.—Charles P. Bayer, field secretary of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, struck a decided note of optimism in a talk at a meeting of the Orange Chamber of Commerce last night. The way the Olympic games were put over the past summer showed what California could do by cooperation, Bayer declared as he pointed out the fact that the games were the most successful ever staged in spite of world-wide conditions.

Bayer, who returned recently from a tour of the middle west and south, stated that an accurate barometer of prosperity was the wholesale trade and that during the first two weeks of September of the present year, the returns to wholesalers of Chicago had far exceeded those of September of the previous year.

All retail stores, wholesale stores, jobbers and factories are practically depleted of stocks and business is to receive a decided impetus immediately by the filling of these needs, Bayer declared.

The speaker called attention to organized business. Many still do not realize the value of cooperation, said Bayer, as he stressed the fact that if there was ever a time when home organizations should be supported it is at the present time. Individuals are helpless in times of economic crisis, Bayer declared, and only by uniting forces can strength be gained. Some thinking must be done and people must keep their feet on the ground, he said.

The world is looking toward California, the speaker declared, and many communities have followed plans which originated in California for community development. The chamber of commerce represents every one in the community whether they want to be represented by it or not, Bayer pointed out. If members of the community do not work together they will go down together in community work, said the speaker.

Bayer urged community cooperation in the drive for members which is to begin Tuesday morning with a meeting of workers in the Chamber of Commerce office.

Late News From Orange County Communities

Chamber In Hectic Meeting Over Tidelands Measure

CIVIC BODY TO DECIDE ACTION NEXT FRIDAY

LAGUNA BEACH, Oct. 22.—Proposition No. 11 was the cause of a hectic meeting of the chamber of commerce board of directors last night, during the progress of which Sumner Crosby, publisher and president of the commercial body, resigned twice; John Jehle, a director, resigned once, and a motion to follow the suggestion in a petition signed by 50 business men and residents, that the chamber adopt a resolution against tideland drilling was tabled, reconsidered, defeated and reconsidered, and the matter finally referred to a general meeting of the members called for Friday evening of next week. At no time were the resignations considered and the meeting concluded with everybody smiling.

Twice Crosby left the chair and asked Charles Hartwell Smith, first vice president, to assume the gavel, but the latter put no motions.

Previous to the controversy over beach drilling, the directors had listened to Bert Holloway, a noted band and orchestra leader, and had endorsed his plan to establish a band in Laguna Beach. Holloway, who is writing music in Laguna Beach, said he wanted to do the work as a recreation and that he had found 23 band players in the city. He said the organization could be maintained at an expense of $25 per month during the winter. On motion of Perry E. McCullough the program was endorsed and the president authorized to name a delegate to meet with representatives of other organizations who would form a community committee to back the band.

The resignation of R. G. Archer, director and treasurer, who has moved from the city, was accepted and Leroy F. Walden, named as assistant at the last meeting, was appointed treasurer.

Following the motion by John Jehle that the chamber go on record against the tideland drilling, former Mayor L. N. Wheaton of Long Beach, an attorney, was granted the privilege of the floor. He asked the chamber to adopt a resolution endorsing Proposition No. 11, declaring the beach already is spoiled at Huntington Beach and that the people of that city should have the right to get the wealth that lies under the tidelands.

Henry J. Weeks, of Laguna Beach, speaking against the proposition, said it was a question of a few dollars for a few people against the joy and happiness of the rest of the Orange county coast forever.

President Crosby announced that the board would go into a committee of the whole and everybody was barred from the room.

Then representatives of the press and local members of the chamber were invited back into the directors' room. Vice President Smith moved that the Jehle motion be tabled. The motion carried. Crosby immediately resigned, verbally, declaring he did not care to be president of a chamber of commerce that would not listen to a petition of the business men of the city. John Jehle then declared he would resign as a director and as member of the chamber. Crosby called Smith to the chair, but the vice president remained where he was. West declared that if that action, which he said was tantamount to endorsing Proposition No. 11, was the attitude of the directors they were not representing the will of the people of the community. Mrs. N. E. West then declared, "I promise you that if you let this action stand that I will take that petition out and that it will be signed by 99 out of every hundred citizens in the city."

Dr. D. R. Hoffman was given a big hand when he said the reason for tabling the motion was for the board to remain neutral on a question concerning a neighboring city and he moved to reconsider.

Crosby took the chair again and the motion carried. Jehle also took his seat. He read a list of the organizations that had adopted resolutions against tideland drilling and moved that the directors go on record against it. Perry E. McCullough said he had voted to table the motion because he had a big hand when he said the reason for tabling the motion was for the board to remain neutral on a question concerning a neighboring city and he moved to reconsider.

wanted to do away with any controversial subject. Smith defended his vote and supported the tideland drilling. A roll was called on the motion and it was defeated by the following vote: Ayes, Jehle, Crosby, John H. Hinchman and Abe W. Johnson Jr.; noes, McCullough, Smith, Leroy F. Walden, Hoffman, G. B. Dunham and C. E. Burnett.

President Crosby smiled and once more tendered his resignation, walking to a chair at the side of the room and asking Smith to take his place.

Director Walden then suggested that the matter was not one for the board of directors to decide and suggested that a meeting be called of the entire membership at which the matter could be decided. McCullough said he did not think the board "should be put on the spot" and asked Jehle if he would withdraw his motion. This was agreed to and there were smiles all around the table after a motion that prevailed calling a special meeting on the subject for Friday of next week.

"SMILIN' THRU" AT FOX BROADWAY SUNDAY

Ruth Chatterton's New Film Comes To West Coast

"CRASH" WILL BE SEEN WITH "CRUSADER"

Two new big pictures come to the Fox West Coast theater Monday.

They are "The Crash," with Ruth Chatterton and George Brent, new newly acquired husband, and "The Crusader," a story dealing with a band of crooks and a district attorney who would not relent. Both are first run, new pictures and yet both will be shown on the same program.

"The Crusader" has in its cast H. B. Warner, Evelyn Brent, Ned Sparks and Zasu Pitts.

The showing of "The Crash" here will be especially interesting from three standpoints. First, it presents Miss Chatterton in a fine, dramatic role well suited to her talents.

Second it is a timely story, bearing upon the effects of the stock market crash. Third, it brings again to the screen here the most sensational young leading man in pictures, George Brent, who has already announced his marriage to Ruth Chatterton. Brent has had a phenomenal success in the past year, coming out of obscurity to play opposite Miss Chatterton in two pictures, opposite Miss Barbara Stanwyck, Joan Blondell, Loretta Young and other screen favorites.

"The Crash" is said to be Miss Chatterton's finest vehicle, and a worthy successor to "The Rich Are Always With Us" which was her initial First National picture.

It brings a popular actress in a story that reports say, is brimming with entertainment and exciting action.

JOHN BARRYMORE HERE ON THURSDAY

A young girl, engaged and about to be married suddenly learns to her horror that past generations of her family have been affected by a peculiar, subtle, mental disorder; although not insanity to the point of madness.

This quirk has cropped up in past generations. It may reappear, if not in herself, perhaps in her children.

How does she meet this crisis? The problem and its solution offer one of the most interesting situations in modern drama, according to John Barrymore, whose new picture, "A Bill of Divorcement," coming to the Fox Broadway theater starting Thursday, concerns itself incidentally with this predicament.

It is Barrymore is supported by Bette Burke and by Katherine Hepburn, the recent sensation of Broadway.

"A Bill of Divorcement," the title of which has been described as somewhat misleading as far as the chief theme of the story is concerned, was written by Clarence Dame, and as a play enjoyed sensational success on the English and New York stage. It was this play that made Katherine Cornell a star.

MARIAM HOPKINS OFF ON VACATION

With two weeks of freedom between the completion of "Trouble in Paradise" and start of "No Man of Her Own," Miriam Hopkins, Paramount actress, has left Hollywood on a flying trip to New York.

She expects to remain in New York only a few days, returning by plane for her co-starring role with Clark Gable in "No Man of Her Own."

Sharon Lynne's Party Ideas Not To Be Repeated

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 22.—Sharon Lynne, who is Mrs. Benjamin Glazier in private life, threw a party the other night. And therein lies a story. It seems that the invitations read "full dress obligatory." Among the recipients of those invitations were Charles McArthur and Lawrence Stallings. Both complied with the letter of the invitation all right, but not with the spirit. When they arrived at the Glazier home, McArthur was wearing the full dress uniform of General U. S. Grant and Stallings had on the full dress uniform of General Robert E. Lee. And was Sharon mortified! But she'll never have another full dress dinner party which was exactly what McArthur and Stallings were hoping for.

FOOTBALL FILM DICKIE MOORE VAUDEVILLE ON FAVORITE WITH AT WEST COAST SCREEN STARS

Five acts of vaudeville and "The All-American," called the greatest football picture yet to be filmed, is the dish served at the Fox West Coast theater today and tomorrow to its patrons.

Richard Arlen has the lead in "The All-American," a gripping drama of what goes on behind the scenes prior to a big football game. The story is said to be more vital than "The Spirit of Notre Dame" and its actors even more famous.

For the first time in film making, an all-American team is gathered together on a football field, and this team plays a team made up of all-American stars of other years. The football scenes are far better than usual and there are many big names to attract attention.

Gloria Stuart furnishes bite feminine interest in the play.

The vaudeville, in keeping with the brand which the West Coast has been getting for the past several weeks, is again said to be far above the average.

TURTLE RACING NOW RAGE IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 22.—Now it's turtle racing which has captured Hollywood's fancy. You never know what the next thing will be out here. One rink, or whatever you want to call a race track for turtles, opened a couple of weeks ago but was closed the second day when big, bad policemen arrested all the turtles. Yes, doubt it or not, the innocent little creatures actually were taken to jail because the populace had been betting on them. However, the first track was given such a reception during its two days that another one has been opened just outside the city limits and is doing a thriving business.

Others on Dickie's list of professional admirers are Spencer Tracy, Josef von Sternberg, Cary Grant, Herbert Marshall and Claudette Colbert.

GARY COOPER BACK IN FILM CAPITAL

Gary Cooper, who has been spending a brief vacation in New York, has returned to Hollywood by plane to prepare for his role in Paramount's "Lives of a Bengal Lancer," in which he is to be featured with Clive Brook, Freddie March and Richard Arlen.

Nancy Carroll and Frances Dee today were cast for leading roles in Lawrence Hazard's play, "The Good Thing." Norman Taurog, director of "The Phantom President," is assigned the direction. After purchasing the play recently, Paramount signed Hazard to a writing contract.

Wally Beery Was Son of Policeman

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 22.—Facts from filmland: When he was only in the fourth grade, Wally Beery ran away from school and hopped freight trains all the way from Kansas City to Birmingham. And just because his dad was a cop, the police forces in the country were looking for him. Wonder how many would look for him if he should turn up missing now?

All of them, probably.

Howard Hughes, youthful producer of the film, reports that it already has grossed approximately $2,000,000—giving him a net profit to date of about $600,000.
